(Hudson, WI) – The Guardian Fund has endorsed Jason Church to represent Wisconsin’s 7th Congressional District in the U.S. Congress. Church, an army veteran, has won the support of the largest and most active veteran-centered PAC in the country.

“The Guardian Fund is proud to support veterans who want to continue their service to our country,” PAC chairman Congressman Jim Banks said. “At a time when our military is at its lowest rate of representation in Congress, Jason Church is the kind of public servant we need standing up for the American people and, most importantly, our servicemen and women.”

“I am honored by the Guardian Fund’s endorsement,” said Jason Church. “Even though the Taliban took my legs in Afghanistan, they did not take my desire to fight for what’s right. I want to take that passion to Washington, D.C. to stand up for our military and the people of Wisconsin’s 7th Congressional District.”
