I appreciate the inquiries and expressions of support regarding the 5th Congressional district seat. I will not be a candidate for the seat. The strength of our Republic does not flow from Washington D.C., but instead is rooted in families, local communities and ground-up leadership. I believe I can best serve my Country by continuing to represent my district and conservative principles in the Wisconsin State Senate, serving in the US Army Reserve, by being active in the business community as a CPA, and most importantly being an engaged husband and father to my four children.
