Milwaukee County War Memorial Center,
750 N. Lincoln Memorial Drive,
Milwaukee.

Dr. Jeffrey Whittle from the Medical College of Wisconsin will talk about the National Institute's of Health All of Us Research Program. It is part of the Precision Medicine Initiative. This initiative seeks to carry out research that will help make healthcare more personalized by tailoring healthcare more precisely to each person's unique biology, environment and behavior. The All of Us Research Program wants to enroll a million or more persons around the country as partners in this effort.

Rotary meetings are open to members, invited guests and media.
