Support Includes 6 State Reps, 5 on County Board, 5 on City Council and Sheriff Mahoney

Madison – School Board candidate, Ali Muldrow, has gained the support of dozens of elected and appointed office holders across Dane County including five county supervisors, five alders, six state representatives, five current and former school board members and Dane County Sheriff Mahoney. They join Judges Kloppenburg, Higginbotham, Mitchell and Townsend and over one hundred adult and youth community leaders across Madison.

Shiva Bidar-Sielaff, who is District 5 alder of Madison’s City Council, shared about Muldrow “Ali has dedicated much of her life to our public schools. She has, with excellence, served as a custodian, as support staff, as an educator and as a student. She has my full support.”

Also from the Madison City Council, District 3 Alder Amanda Hall stated, “Ali is one of the most authentic people in the Madison public policy scene. Her boldness and her heart would make an amazing addition to the BOE,”

District 6 Supervisor of the Dane County Board, Yogesh Chalwa, wrote, “Ali Muldrow has made it her life’s work to close the achievement gap in our public schools. She is committed to creating a safe and inclusive learning environment for all of our students. Ali has an extensive background as both an educator and advocate and she will make an immediate impact for our community on the school board.”

Muldrow thanked the elected and community leaders endorsing her candidacy saying “I am grateful for this overwhelming show of support. I promise, as a school board member, I will serve not only the students, but our entire community—our methods and strategies should strive to shine light on the part of every one of us that yearns to learn, that explores new ways of solving problems, and seeks out the good in all of us. In my leadership, I will empower all of us—students, teachers, families, and community members—to innovate Madison schools and give all students the chance to love learning.”

An East High graduate, Ali Muldrow is Co-Executive Director at GSAFE and lives in Madison with her partner, MMSD teacher, Sandy and their two daughters. To learn more about Ali’s platform, visit <https://alimuldrow.com>
