MADISON, Wis. – The prominent Madison law firm Pines Bach LLP is pleased to announce the addition of attorney Joshua J. Kindkeppel as a Partner in the firm's business, real estate, and employment law practices.

Kindkeppel handles business start-ups, represents clients in business acquisitions and guides owners through break-ups and dissolutions. He prepares, negotiates, and advises clients on contracts and enjoys representing clients in commercial and residential real estate purchases/sales. His practice also includes the areas of business and real estate litigation, representing professionals in licensing appeals, and mediating cases through the Dane County Case Mediation Program. Over the years, Kindkeppel has represented a variety of businesses and professionals including attorneys, accountants, contractors, childcare providers, dentists, engineers, farmers, therapists, and more.

Many of the 16 attorneys at Pines Bach continue to be honored with the highest levels of peer recognition for excellent legal work by being named as Super Lawyers™, included in Best Lawyers in America and chosen as members of the American College of Trial Lawyers, the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers and the Litigation Council of America.

Pines Bach has a wide-ranging practice that includes civil and criminal litigation, family law and representation of health care organizations and businesses. It litigates cases in the areas of labor and employment, environmental protection, personal injury, commercial disputes, public policy issues, open records claims and white collar and other criminal defense cases. Its attorneys regular
