MADISON- Senator Feyen will be traveling throughout the 18th Senate District and hosting listening sessions to hear constituents' thoughts and concerns regarding Governor Evers' proposed budget.

"The best way for me to represent the people of the 18th Senate District is to hear directly from them." Sen. Feyen said. "Working towards passing a state budget is always a tedious process. We want to be as transparent as possible about that process, and we want feedback in order to move forward and pass bipartisan legislation that will have a positive impact on the hardworking people of Wisconsin. I look forward to seeing everyone there."
