MADISON — The Democratic Party of Wisconsin's Administrative Committee has formally adopted the Party's 2020 Delegate Selection plan. The 2020 Democratic National Convention will be held July 13-16 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin where delegates will vote for the Party's presidential and vice presidential nominee as well as other Party resolutions, platforms and governing rules.

Wisconsin will select a total of 90 delegates and 6 alternates for the 2020 convention.

Any qualified Wisconsin elector who subscribes to the beliefs of the Democratic Party is eligible to run for a spot as a convention delegate in Milwaukee. The Party is committed to sending the most diverse delegation possible to the Milwaukee Democratic National Convention in 2020 and encourages all interested individuals to run for a position.
