[Madison, WI] – Yesterday, Lt. Governor Mandela Barnes used an MLK Day event to spread fake news about a widely reported-on viral confrontation between a group of high school students and a Native American protester. Despite numerous reports that shed new light on the incident, including the protester changing his story, Barnes still chose to spread misinformation to fit his hyper-partisan agenda. Once again, Barnes is focused more on scoring political points than he is on demonstrating real leadership.
