MADISON, Wis. – Wisconsin Attorney General Josh Kaul today reacts to the release of Republican legislators planned proposal in light of the current public health crisis.

“I would like to say it’s unbelievable, but it’s actually all too believable that Republican legislative leaders—who not only thought it was a good idea to hold, but went to court to insist on holding, an election yesterday—are attempting to include yet another power grab in legislation that’s meant to help people who have been impacted by the coronavirus public health emergency,” said Attorney General Kaul.

“Wisconsin families, workers, employers, students, and seniors are making enormous, unprecedented personal sacrifices right now. We need legislative action that’s focused on the addressing the serious challenges that Wisconsinites are dealing with, not political profiteering.”
