On Saturday, the Congressional Hispanic Caucus Virtual Bus Tour made a stop in Milwaukee with DNC Chair Tom Perez, comedian Cristela Alonzo, and local Wisconsin leaders. At the event, leaders highlighted Joe Biden's vision for Latino families and encouraged voters to make a plan to vote.

"I'm voting for people with pre-existing conditions...Healthcare is again on the ballot...Dreamers are on the ballot...When Joe Biden and Kamala Harris are elected, we will not only continue the program, Joe Biden, on day one will introduce a bill for comprehensive immigration reform. Joe Biden and Kamala Harris understand that we must build back better. We must invest in small businesses, the lifeblood of the Latino community...The Latino community in Wisconsin is so vibrant and the Latino community can indeed make that difference this November," said DNC Chair Tom Perez.

"I'm asking everybody not only to go out and vote for this election. I want you to make voting a normal thing you do. I want you to become a lifetime voter. One thing you learned, especially this year, is that elections matter...I'm here because I believe in Joe Biden," said comedian Cristela Alonzo.
