Jason Church, candidate for Congress in Wisconsin's Seventh District, released the following statement after President Trump signed the U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA) today:

"Thank you President Trump for standing up for American workers with the new USMCA trade agreement. The USMCA will provide much needed relief, particularly to Northern Wisconsin's dairy farmers.

"President Trump needs allies in Congress who will work with him to renegotiate our trade agreements. Democrats dragged their feet for over a year on this deal. Farmers and manufacturers in Wisconsin's Seventh Congressional District benefit the most from open and competitive markets. I will be that partner with the President to ensure the American economy stays strong."
