(Hudson, WI) – Jason Church, candidate for Congress in Wisconsin's 7th Congressional District, has received an 'AQ' rating from the NRA for his support of the Second Amendment. The 'AQ' rating is the highest rating a candidate can receive without a voting record.

"I am proud to receive one of the highest rating from the NRA," said Jason Church. "Their dedication to educating and preserving our right to bear arms is critical. The Second Amendment was put in place to provide protection against a tyrannical government. As a combat veteran, I cherish the rights that I fought to defend. That cannot be taken away, and I will fight in Congress to preserve Americans' right to own firearms."
