"Jessi exemplifies the values and patriotism our country needs in the rising generation of conservative leaders. They will face constant challenges from those seeking to undermine the Constitution and founding principles of our great nation. Jessi will face these challenges with strength and determination as she faithfully serves the people of Wisconsin's 3rd District. "Many issues faced by Wisconsin's rural communities are similar to those of North Carolina's 5th District, and Jessi has the knowledge and resolve to address them in Washington, D.C. Working together, I believe we can close the skills gap, bring more opportunities for education and jobs to rural communities, and keep the federal government from interfering in people's lives. It is a pleasure to endorse Jessi Ebben for U.S. Congress."

Republican Leader of the Education and Labor Committee

Congresswoman Virginia Foxx represents North Carolina's 5th District in the U.S. House of Representatives. She currently serves as the Republican Leader of the House Committee on Education and Labor where she has supported our nation's workforce with policies to align in-demand jobs with education options, cut bureaucratic red tape and costs for employers, and increase options for affordable health care. From 2013 to 2016, she served as Secretary of the House Republican Conference. Throughout her time in Congress, Rep. Foxx has established herself as a champion of conservative values and has helped lead the national movements to reduce federal government spending and increase government oversight and accountability. She is a visible leader in the House Republican Conference, where she regularly takes a stand for the principles of individual freedom and limited government. Before being elected to Congress, Rep. Foxx served in North Carolina's State Senate for 10 years, owned a nursery business, and worked in post-secondary education and administration. At Mayland Community College, Foxx implemented several nationally recognized programs including a curriculum evaluation program which has been adopted by major universities. In another major success, she raised over $1 million in private funds for an on-campus, state-of-the-art child development center built by prison inmates. At Appalachian State University, she implemented a model orientation/academic advising program that continues to be used today.

“I am truly humbled by the support of Congresswoman Foxx. She is a dedicated and hardworking legislator that knows how to get things done for our country’s workers and veterans. She is a stalwart supporter of apprenticeships, technical education, community colleges and workforce development that our country desperately needs to fill the skills gap. She has had a hand in crafting and passing numerous bills that have made a direct, positive impact for our active-duty military members and veterans. In Congress, I look forward to working with Congresswoman Foxx to meet the needs of students, workers, military families and veterans in Wisconsin’s 3rd District.”
