

WisOpinion Poll: Is Biden making the right decision to not accept the Dem presidential nomination in Milwaukee?

Posted on Friday, Aug 7, 2020

Joe Biden will not accept the Dem presidential nomination in Milwaukee, citing concerns over rising COVID-19 cases in the state.

The convention in a statement revealed Biden would instead accept the nomination from his home in Delaware, after earlier saying he would still attend the highly downsized Democratic National Convention in the state's largest city.

All other convention speakers will also no longer attend the event in person in an attempt to protect the health of both Milwaukeeans and convention teams.

Is Biden making the right decision to not accept the Dem presidential nomination in Milwaukee?

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

Let us know below and please explain in the comments.