MADISON - Judge Jill Karofsky, candidate for WI Supreme Court, won enough votes today in the primary election to advance to the April 7 general election.

“We have built momentum across the state because voters want a Supreme Court that is free of corruption and special interest influence,” said Judge Jill Karofsky. “I am incredibly thankful to those who organized, donated, and supported this campaign in so many different ways.

“We’ve come a long way, but we have a long way to go in the next seven weeks,” continued Karofsky. “I look forward to traveling across Wisconsin, talking to voters, and making our case. My opponent and his special-interest allies will throw every bit of mud they can, but I have the record, the commitment to the rule of law, and the toughness required to win this race.”
