

Palm says statewide coronavirus peak could depend on impact from in-person voting

Posted on Thursday, Apr 9, 2020

Today's Midday podcast reviews Health Services Secretary Andrea Palm's comments on how Tuesday's election could impact the COVID-19 transmission rate. Stephanie Hoff and Pat Poblete also discuss outstanding absentee ballots and a Postal Service investigation into why some weren't delivered.