

Republican COVID-19 bill would restrict local closures, pressure schools to return to in-person instruction

Posted on Wednesday, Dec 2, 2020

Today's Midday podcast covers sweeping legislation from Assembly Republicans to deal with COVID-19 that would pressure schools to return to in-person instruction and place new restrictions on the closures that local officials can order to deal with the pandemic.