STURTEVANT, WISCONSIN—Congressman Bryan Steil released a statement after being re-elected to serve his fellow residents of Southeast Wisconsin in the U.S. House of Representatives.

“I am honored to have earned the support of voters, workers, and families across Southeast Wisconsin. As I’ve done throughout my first term in office, I will continue working hard to serve you, be available and accessible to all, and advocate for policies that support Wisconsin workers and families. We have important work ahead of us and I will continue fighting every day to defeat coronavirus, ensure everyone who wants a job has a job, and keep our communities safe. Thank you for your confidence in me,” said Steil.

Congressman Steil was first elected to Congress in 2018. Steil previously worked in Southeast Wisconsin’s manufacturing industry for a decade and served on the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents. For more information on Congressman Steil visit bryansteil.com.
