MADISON, Wis. – The latest episode of “WisBusiness.com: The Show” spotlights entrepreneur Nhat Nguyen of Otrafy, an AI-powered, supplier-management system that helps food production facilities mitigate vendor-associated supply chain risks.

Otrafy was an award winner during the “Elevator Pitch Olympics” at the 2020 Wisconsin Early Stage Symposium.

Also, Tom Still presents “Tech Metrics,” which chart key indicators and events in the Wisconsin economy. He’ll also preview upcoming Tech Council webinars and opportunities in January, including the launch of the Governor’s Business Plan Contest.
