

Thompson Center event with former U.S. Solicitor General Paul Clement

Posted on Sunday, Apr 5, 2020

Former U.S. Solicitor General Paul Clement will be joining the Thompson Center for a free webinar to discuss the Supreme Court in 2020. Clement and the Thompson Center's own Ryan Owens will discuss the upcoming cases faced by the court, and the possible ramifications of their decisions. Time will be set aside for audience Q&A at this Webinar. We hope you can join us for what is sure to be an interesting event.

To Register to attend this event please click here!

This event has adapted in consideration of the Covid-19 coronavirus and has been changed to an online virtual format, utilizing the Zoom platform. To Register, please click on the link above. An email will be sent to you with a link to attend the meeting on April 21. If this is your first time using Zoom you may be prompted to download software (computer) or an app (handheld device). These downloads should take less than 30 seconds and can be accomplished with just a few clicks.