As our nation continues to recover from the coronavirus outbreak at a rapid pace under President Trump's leadership, Joe Biden is proposing a series of policies that would devastate the American economy, including a $4 trillion tax hike and his version of the radical Green New Deal. Joe Biden has bowed down to the socialist wing of the Democrat Party while President Trump has continued to uplift American workers and businesses through his pro-growth agenda. At a 'Make America Great Again!' event in Janesville, Wisconsin, Vice President Mike Pence reiterated the need to re-elect President Trump and reject the radical, job-killing policies of the far-left:

"The truth is Joe Biden has put forward the most extreme platform of any major party candidate in U.S. history. In the middle of a global pandemic, Joe Biden wants to raise taxes by $4 trillion. Your President - we cut taxes across the board for working families, and we're going to keep cutting taxes for four more years. Joe Biden wants to bury our economy under an avalanche of red tape, like his own version of the Green New Deal. You know, the only thing green about the Green New Deal is how much green it's going to cost all of us if they ever sign it into law. This President, he actually signed more laws cutting federal red tape than any president in American history already, and we're going to keep chopping red tape to create jobs for four years to come."
