WASHINGTON – U.S. Senator Ron Johnson (R-Wis.) criticized the mainstream media for ignoring findings from his committee’s investigation into conflicts of interest concerning the Biden family during an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News Monday night.

An excerpt from the interview is below. Video can be found here.

“Hunter Biden, together with other Biden family members, profited off the Biden name. That’s what’s happening here. What we revealed in our 87-page report is a vast web of connections with Chinese nationals, with people all over the world. Again, trading on the Biden name. But it’s these business dealings – you know, our report raises far more questions than it actually answered – but it raises so many troubling issues that the mainstream media is simply not looking at. They are suppressing the information, which is a scandal in and of itself.”
