“Wisconsin’s small businesses are doing a fantastic job of keeping their staff and communities safe while navigating the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic. Their ingenuity and resilience in the face of these challenges has been profound. We applaud Governor Evers’ All In Grant Program as a way of assisting these businesses to get back on their feet.

The Wisconsin Economic Development Corp. will get the funds into the hands of small businesses quickly, which is exactly what is needed to speed up Wisconsin’s economic recovery and help those directly impacted by COVID-19. Wisconsin banks stand ready to help their small business clients during this time and provide information about this new program as well as their own ongoing efforts.

We appreciate the governor’s program as these businesses need support from many sources as they slowly reopen.”
