Do you agree with Wisconsin sending absentee ballot requests to most registered voters?

The Wisconsin Elections Commission has unanimously backed a proposal to send roughly 2.7 million voters an absentee ballot application.

Staffers anticipate about 1 percent of recipients will respond to the mailing, which will cost around $2.3 million.

The final mailing is set to go to all registered voters in the state — except those who have already requested an absentee ballot and those who may have moved and have not confirmed their address.
