

WisOpinion Poll: Who will win the Wisconsin Supreme Court race?

Posted on Thursday, Feb 20, 2020

Conservative Justice Daniel Kelly and liberal Dane County Judge Jill Karofsky advance to the April 7 general election to decide a 10-year term on the state's highest court after Tuesday's primary.

Kelly led the field with 50.1 percent, while Karofsky won 37.2 percent of the vote.

Marquette University Law School Prof. Ed Fallon was a distant third at 12.7 percent.

Who do you think will win the general election?

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.