PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, WI - This morning, we learned that the Biden and Pelosi economy created 306,000 fewer jobs than expected in September, coming on the heels of another severely disappointing August jobs report. After paying people not to work for months and continued out-of-control spending practices driving record inflation, it’s clear that the Biden-Pelosi economy is not working.

Derrick Van Orden released the following statement on the disastrous jobs report: After continued disappointment, it’s clear that Biden and Pelosi’s economy is hurting working Americans. I hear from small business owners often about the disastrous impact that paying people not to work has had on their ability to hire and continue business, policies supported by Wisconsin and Washington Democrats. In Biden and Pelosi’s America, families are having trouble buying gas and food on the same day.
