This week, Democrats and state parties barnstormed the country to tout the benefits of President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal. This historic investment in our nation's infrastructure will create good-paying jobs by rebuilding our roads and bridges, expanding broadband so every American has access to high-speed internet, and securing clean drinking water for our families and children. Democrats are making sure that voters across the country know that they will be healthier, better connected, and poised to win the competition for the 21st century because of President Biden and Democrats.
