APPLETON, WI – Court of Appeals District Three candidate Greg Gill Jr. just eclipsed a major fundraising milestone. Judge Gill has received a total of over $81,000 in donations since he declared his candidacy in early December.

Nearly 100 Wisconsinites have contributed to Judge Gill's campaign from every corner of the district. Nearly half of which have come in the form of small-dollar donations. The contributions have come in from fifteen counties and twenty-six different municipalities, further signaling powerful grassroots efforts by the campaign and its supporters.

"I am incredibly humbled and grateful for the support I have received. The citizens of the third district and their enthusiasm for this campaign continues to amaze me. I want to thank everyone who has donated, circulated nomination papers, or volunteered for their continued support and generous contributions," said Judge Greg Gill.

Judge Gill is the clear choice being the only candidate with judicial experience. He has been endorsed by a bipartisan group of seven sheriffs, seven district attorneys, and eighty-three judges from around the state including former State Supreme Court Justice David Prosser.
