Hunter Nation Names Ted Nugent National Spokesperson *Outdoor Group Says Partnership will Help Ensure Traditional American Values of God, Family, Country, and Hunting Heritage are Protected

Kansas City...Hunter Nation, the fastest growing grassroots organization in the country dedicated to protecting the rights of hunters, inked a historic partnership with Ted Nugent by naming him their National Spokesperson in a deal announced today.

Hunter Nation President and CEO, Luke Hilgemann said, “Today marks the beginning of an exciting new chapter for Hunter Nation. Ted Nugent has been an icon in the hunting and outdoor community for decades and no one has fought harder to protect the rights of hunters than Uncle Ted. We are beyond excited to officially partner with Ted to help us grow our army of hunters, increase our impact on policy, and continue to activate millions of American hunters to vote their values and protect our traditions – basically continuing the legacy Uncle Ted has built as the Ultimate BloodBrother!”

“Being addicted to truth, logic, commonsense and the American Way for 72.6 years, I am compelled to stand up and shout it out loud and proud from every mountaintop

I ascend every day,” asserts Nugent. “Freedom is not free and I want to earn it to the best of my ability and I am excited to be working with the Hunter Nation team to do just that.”

In addition to hosting his Spirit of the Wild hunting show on Outdoor Channel, which recently celebrated its 500th episode, Nugent has been an outspoken advocate for our hunting heritage, and has taken on and shut down the likes of anti-hunting zealots Piers Morgan, Rosie O’Donnell and many others.

Nugent shares his powerful message in hundreds of interviews each year for major print, TV, radio, and social media outlets and has built an immense aggregate of loyal followers on his top-rated “Spirit Campfire” Podcast. In his role with Hunter Nation, Nugent will be featured in a daily “Nightly Nuge” segment that will appear on the group’s website in addition to speaking on their behalf at events and in the media.

Hunter Nation founder Keith Mark had this to say about the partnership, “Ted Nugent has dedicated his life to protecting the values of God, Family, Country and our Hunting Traditions. He has worked tirelessly to make sure we never lose our unique American Freedoms. Hunter Nation is honored to have Ted on our team and know he will have a huge impact on our shared goals of protecting the American Hunter in the year ahead.”

In the last year alone, Hunter Nation has built an army of dedicated activists from all 50 states numbering in the hundreds of thousands. The organization is focused on protecting Traditional American Values and our precious outdoor lifestyle in which millions of Americans participate each year.
