MILWAUKEE – Kahler Slater, an award-winning international architecture, interior design, environmental branding, and strategic advisory services firm, is pleased to announce two new Principals to our Leadership Team, Aaron Ebent and Joseph Sinnett. As Principals, Ebent and Sinnett are recognized for their strong leadership within the firm, proven design creativity, and exemplary service to the communities and clients they serve.

Ebent, an award-winning Designer on Kahler Slater's teams serving the Corporate and Hospitality markets, has been with the firm since 2006. He is known for his design leadership on prominent projects including Milwaukee's BMO Tower, 833 East, Renaissance Mayfair Hotel, The Kimpton Journeyman, Brookfield Conference Center, as well as several other projects in Madison, Wisconsin and across the country.

As a Team Leader for Kahler Slater's Corporate, Residential, and Hospitality markets, Sinnett brings over 15 years of market experience in directing complex projects including the recently completed Vantage on the Park Apartments in Milwaukee. His portfolio also includes projects such as Milwaukee's Westin Hotel Downtown, the Milwaukee Athletic Club renovation, and a proposed net zero source energy multifamily project in metropolitan Chicago.

Both Sinnett and Ebent provide leadership for Kahler Slater's design staff and contribute to their market's business and strategic planning. Their promotions directly enhance Kahler Slater's ability to leverage design to help clients reach their strategic business goals.

“With these well-earned promotions, we recognize Joe and Aaron’s contributions to our firm’s successful growth, their design and technical expertise, and their intimate understanding of our clients’ businesses. We are excited to see them continue to serve our clients and be an integral part of our strategic growth,” said Glenn Roby, Executive Vice President.
