[Waukesha, WI] – Following the latest Marquette Law School Poll results, Rebecca Kleefisch released the following statement:

“Whether it’s Tony Evers or Joe Biden, Wisconsinites are fed up with weak leadership from out-of-touch liberals. They’re worried about control of their kids’ education, the rising crime on our streets, and the threat of inflation — all issues that liberals are refusing to get serious about. I don’t need a public poll to tell me that the hard-working men and women of this state are ready to take back control of their lives, and we are building a movement to do exactly that.”
