Menomonie, WI—Today, Amy McGrath and her organization Honor Bound enthusiastically endorsed Deb McGrath for Wisconsin's 3rd Congressional district. Deb McGrath is a former Army Captain, CIA officer, and working mom of three. Ret. US Marine Corps Lt. Col. Amy McGrath is a former candidate for US Senate and founder of Honor Bound, which aims to support women with a service background to run for office.

"Deb McGrath has served our nation for decades," said former candidate for US Senate and Ret. US Marine Corps Lt. Col. Amy McGrath. "In Congress, she will be a champion for Veterans and a faithful advocate for economic security, affordable healthcare, and improving our infrastructure, including expanding broadband. She is the leader western Wisconsin needs in this critical moment, and I am proud to endorse her for Congress."

"It is an honor and a privilege to be endorsed by Amy McGrath, and I am proud to represent the principles of her organization, Honor Bound. In Congress, I will be an unwavering voice for the interests of western Wisconsin and a committed advocate for the 2.2 million female Veterans who have faithfully served our nation," said Deb McGrath. "I am running to bring strength to Wisconsin and strength to our nation, and I am thrilled to have Amy McGrath and Honor Bound by my side."

The announcement comes the same day that Deb McGrath's campaign was endorsed by VoteVets, America's largest progressive Veterans group.
