BROOKFIELD—Sara Rodriguez, candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Wisconsin in 2022, announced today that she has earned the endorsement of former Wisconsin Lieutenant Governor Barbara Lawton.

“I’m thrilled to endorse Sara Rodriguez to be Wisconsin’s next Lt. Governor,” said Lawton. “She uniquely brings both legislative and private sector experience to the job, including years of experience in businesses large and small, and critical credentials as a public health leader.”

“Barbara Lawton epitomizes public service and has been an advocate for all Wisconsinites during her time as Lieutenant Governor and throughout her life,” said Rodriguez. “I’m honored and grateful to have her endorsement and support in this race.”

“We’ve seen Sara lead the charge to increase funding for public schools, ensure healthcare affordability, and take action on climate change and protect our democracy,” said Lawton. “Sara Rodriguez brings tremendous value to Governor Evers’ agenda, and they’re our values. What a dynamite team this will be!”

“The coalition of supporters behind our campaign is growing every day because leaders from across Wisconsin see my record on fighting for our values,” said Rodriguez. “I’m ready to stand with Governor Evers as our next Lieutenant Governor and continue moving this great state forward.”
