“Tonight is an incredibly proud night for me, but I know that the real work begins tomorrow morning. I want to say thank you to the people of the 13th Senate District for the incredible honor of serving as their voice in the Senate. I promise to fight every day to earn the trust they’ve placed in me.

I want to thank Congressman Scott Fitzgerald, and I owe him a debt of gratitude for his support on day one, as well as his advice and support over the course of this campaign.

Most of all, I want to thank my family – my wife Heidi and our kids, for their patience and their love and support as I spent the last few months doing three full-time jobs at once: serving in the Assembly; running for Senate; and keeping up with our family business.

This campaign gave me the wonderful experience of meeting so many new voters in the 13th – families, small businesses, and people from all walks of life who are struggling to survive these challenges we’re facing. I told them that I would fight for them in Madison, that I would work for them, and that I would do everything I could to make things better for them.

Thank you again, to the people of the 13th District, for the opportunity of a lifetime. I can’t wait to get started.”
