“It is disappointing, but not surprising that the Republican’s passed super gerrymandered legislative districts based on the maps they created ten years ago. These maps expand Republican’s power and leaves millions of Wisconsin voters without a voice. Republican politicians have chosen their voters.

Wisconsin is widely considered to be one of the most heavily gerrymandered states in America and these maps ensure that we will continue to be so. The Republican maps are self-serving and a disservice to Wisconsin voters. The maps deserved to be vetoed by Governor Evers and I encourage him to quickly do so.”
