

WisGOP: Democrat Senate hopefuls reveal east coast loyalties

Posted on Monday, Aug 30, 2021

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

[Madison, WI] – They say that money talks — and this time, the money shows that both Alex Lasry and Sarah Godlewski are still financially benefiting from their East Coast ties as they pretend to care about Wisconsin. The Associated Press recently reported that New York trust fund baby Alex Lasry has joined serial embellisher Sarah Godlewski in revealing the extent of his East Coast loyalties as he benefited from property tax breaks in both New York and Wisconsin — which are supposed to be reserved for primary residents.

Meanwhile, the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel revealed that Sarah Godlewski was busy scooping up a Washington, D.C. condo for $1.2 million in 2017 — a year before launching her campaign for State Treasurer in Wisconsin — while failing to pay state income taxes for two years. It's clear that Godlewski has been biding her time before jumping at the first opportunity to return home to the Swamp.

“Sarah Godlewski and Alex Lasry are pretending to care about Wisconsin while cashing in on their East Coast ties,” said Republican Party of Wisconsin Communications Director Anna Kelly. “Wisconsinites want their U.S. Senator to represent them — not the liberal elites of New York and DC.”