

Alliance Defending Freedom: Madison church free to hold employees accountable to its religious beliefs

Posted on Thursday, Feb 24, 2022

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

ADF attorneys represent Capitoland Christian Center Church in lawsuit MADISON, Wis. – The Wisconsin Court of Appeals ruled Thursday in favor of a church in Madison. As a result of that ruling, Capitoland Christian Center Church remains free to expect its employees to share and live out its religious beliefs. In its decision, the court affirmed a lower court's ruling that the church did not engage in marital-status discrimination when it informed one of its employees that the church's religious beliefs prohibited her from living with her boyfriend, a condition of employment which the individual had previously agreed to uphold. Alliance Defending Freedom attorneys represent Capitoland Christian Center Church in Sandoval v. Capitoland Christian Center Church.

Full news release, quotes, and related media resources available at the following link:

<https://adfmedia.org/case/sandoval-v-capitoland-christian-center-church>

Case Name: Sandoval v. Capitoland Christian Center Church

Alliance Defending Freedom is an alliance-building, non-profit legal organization committed to protecting religious freedom, free speech, parental rights, and the sanctity of life.