MADISON — Senator Cory Booker has endorsed Lieutenant Governor Mandela Barnes for U.S. Senate. The endorsement comes on the heels of a new internal poll from the Mandela Barnes for Wisconsin team showing Mandela with a commanding lead over the Democratic primary field. Senator Cory Booker released the following statement:

“Mandela’s story is only possible here in America. It shows how hard work, faith, and opportunity can transform a family and a community,” said Senator Cory Booker. “From helping to lead Wisconsin’s recovery efforts from the pandemic, championing economic development for rural and urban communities, and bringing people together to find solutions to the climate crisis, Mandela stands up for Wisconsin’s working families. In the Senate, Mandela will champion opportunity, accountability, and justice, the way he has always done. He’ll expand opportunities for working people, stand up for good union jobs, and protect the right to vote. Mandela Barnes has always been a game changer — and he’s exactly what working families need in this moment.”
