Lt. Governor Mandela Barnes, Democratic nominee for U.S. Senate, is continuing his Working For Wisconsin tour in La Crosse. This tour, which has previously had stops in Racine, Green Bay and Cambridge, is engaging with voters across the state about issues affecting farmers, labor leaders, Black community leaders, women, and small business owners.

While touring a local farm, Mandela was joined by Sen. Tammy Baldwin as they highlighted the importance of Wisconsin agriculture and discussed his plan to help address the problems that affect farmers. He ended the day with a meet and greet with volunteers and community members in downtown La Crosse.
