

Barnes touts working-class roots in TV ad

Posted on Monday, Jul 25, 2022

Dem U.S. Senate candidate Mandela Barnes in his fourth TV ad touts his working-class roots and says he'll grow manufacturing jobs in America.

The Lt. gov. in the 30-second spot airing on broadcast and cable TV, and on digital platforms statewide says keeping jobs in America helps keep shelves stocked and provides family-supporting jobs.

"I'm tired of excuses from millionaires running the Senate," he says. "I'll bring manufacturing back here so folks like you who actually earn your paychecks finally get a fair shot."

Barnes' campaign did not say how much was spent on this specific ad, but a press release notes it is part of a multi-million dollar ad campaign.

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.