Eau Claire, WI — Today, Rebecca Cooke for Congress announced raising more than $120,000 during the first quarter of 2022, her second in the race. 90% of contributions received were $100 or less, and raw donations to the campaign increased by 238% over last quarter, a demonstration of Rebecca's broad base of grassroots support. The campaign reports over $155,000 cash on hand.

"I'm so grateful to everyone who contributed to our campaign focused on uplifting the voices of working Wisconsin families," said Rebecca Cooke, small business owner, nonprofit and economic development leader, and candidate for Wisconsin's Third Congressional District.

Cooke continued, "It's no secret that mega corporations are working to game the system by price gouging on the backs of everyday Wisconsinites, stacking the deck against family farmers, jacking prescription drug prices up to line executives' pockets, and so much more. That's why I'm proud that not a single penny of our fundraising came from Big Ag, Big Pharma, or other corporate special interests trying to hijack our economy and democracy for their own bottom line. I'm committed to the people of our communities and will be a relentless fighter for our shared future, values, and way of life in Congress."
