This week, the Biden-Harris administration announced state-by-state funding that will soon be available to build out a national electric vehicle charging network, thanks to President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law. This announcement marks an important step towards making electric vehicle charging accessible and creating good-paying jobs. But that wasn't the only way Democrats delivered this week! President Biden's American Rescue Plan continues to help communities recover from the pandemic, from supporting daycare providers to providing wi-fi hotspots to help close the digital divide.

Here's a look at what voters were reading in the states this week...

About the Biden-Harris administration's investments in electric vehicle infrastructure:
