MADISON - Today, State Treasurer and candidate for U.S. Senate Sarah Godlewski announced that last week, she delivered over 4,000 nomination signatures to the Wisconsin Election Commission to qualify for the August Democratic primary.

“Today, I’m proud to say that our campaign has submitted enough signatures to be on the ballot this August. This would not have been possible without the incredible grassroots support we have seen from across the state,” said Sarah Godlewski. “I’m grateful to all the staffers, volunteers, circulators, and signers who collected well over 4,000 nomination signatures and helped us get here. Together, we are going to defeat Ron Johnson and return this U.S. Senate seat to the people of Wisconsin.”

A recent poll shows that Sarah is well-positioned to beat Johnson in November and the only candidate leading the longtime extremist politician, pulling ahead by 2 points (48-46). And the latest poll from the Marquette Law School confirmed that Sarah is growing faster than any candidate in the Wisconsin Senate race.

Last week’s filing shows the strength of her grassroots campaign that includes community leaders, advocates, and elected officials from all corners of Wisconsin. She’s also been endorsed by nationally recognized organizations, including EMILY’s List, Feminist Majority PAC, No Dem Left Behind, United Rural Democrats, VoteMama, Her Bold Move, Democrats Serve, and the National Women’s Political Caucus.
