Wisconsin Representative Don Vruwink (D-Milton) is endorsing Jenna Jacobson to be the next Representative of District 43 in the State Assembly.

“Jenna Jacobson is the best choice for State Assembly in Wisconsin’s 43rd. Her leadership and dedication to the people of Oregon, through her service as a Village Trustee, show her commitment to those that she represents. She will be a tireless advocate for the issues that matter most to the people of this district.” Rep. Vruwink added, “It has been an honor to represent this District, and I look forward to working with Jenna in the Assembly from the neighboring district.”

Rep. Vruwink has admirably represented District 43 for three terms. With the recent redistricting, he now lives in District 33, where he is seeking a 4th term in the Assembly.

“It is an honor to have earned Representative Vruwink’s endorsement,” said Jacobson. “His service leadership is evident when I talk to people he has worked with, and I look forward serving the people of Wisconsin’s 43rd District as we work to provide affordable housing, well-funded public schools, quality healthcare, and internet access so that we may all thrive.”

Jacobson has earned the support of trusted leaders from all over District 43; see full list of endorsements at www.jennaforassembly.com/endorsements.

Jenna is serving her third term as a Village of Oregon Trustee, where she chairs the Finance Committee and the Personnel & Public Safety Committee. She previously served as the Vice-Chair of the Oregon Housing Coalition, the Fire/EMS Commission, and the Village Board liaison to the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Advisory Group. She and her husband live in Oregon with their three children. You can learn more about her at www.JennaforAssembly.com.
