[Balsam Lake, Wis.] – Today, Adam Jarchow proudly announced the endorsement from the Milwaukee Professional Firefighters Association – IAFF Local 215. The organization, comprised of over 600 brave first responders, is the driving force in providing a voice for the brave men and women who protect our communities each day.

As part of the announcement, the campaign launched a new web ad featuring Adam and MPFA President Eric Daun. Click here to watch the ad, which will run on digital platforms statewide.

“As a volunteer firefighter with the Apple River Fire Department, this endorsement means the world to me. I have the privilege of working with our state’s brave first responders and have seen their commitment to serve, ” said Adam Jarchow.

“Working with law enforcement at these emergency scenes, I’ve seen the issues they face and know that the Department of Justice must do more to support their efforts to keep our communities safe. As attorney general, I’ll stand with our first responders, not against them, as we bring sanity back to our streets.”

“Adam Jarchow is one of us, so he understands the issues that first responders face each day, and he’s worked closely with law enforcement when it counts,” said Eric Daun, President of Milwaukee Professional Firefighters Association. “Adam is a fighter, both in uniform and for the communities he serves, and we’re ready to have an ally in the attorney general’s office once again.”
