Jarchow the only candidate with the support and organization needed to fire Josh Kaul

[Balsam Lake, Wis.] – Today, Adam Jarchow announced that his campaign raised over $200,000 in the less than two months since formally launching his bid for attorney general, another sign that voters across the state are uniting behind his effort to fire Josh Kaul. Jarchow continues to far outpace his primary election opponent in fundraising. In just two months, Jarchow has raised more than 2.5x what Eric Toney raised in all of 2021 and more than 5x what he raised in the second half of 2021.

“We continue to demonstrate that our campaign has the message and organization needed to fire Josh Kaul in November, and I’m humbled by the outpouring of support from across Wisconsin,” said Adam Jarchow. “Kaul’s liberal, weak-on-crime policies have led to cities burning, crime rates skyrocketing, and a target on the back of our first responders. As attorney general, I will fight crime and ensure that law enforcement has the resources needed to be effective.”

Last week, Jarchow announced the addition of Collin Driscoll as Campaign Manager and Mike Hoffman as Field Organizer. Earlier, the campaign outlined a strong advisory committee comprised of leaders in the conservative legal movement, law enforcement, and grassroots community across the state. As Jarchow continues to build momentum, Wisconsin’s grassroots recognize that Adam is the only candidate in this race with the consistent conservative leadership, fundraising ability, and organization needed to win.
