[Balsam Lake, Wis.] – Today, Adam Jarchow announced that his campaign has raised over $300,000 in less than 3 months as his message of standing with law enforcement and stopping the rise in violent crime continues to gain traction. Adam formally entered the race for Attorney General on January 19, and he's the only Republican candidate building the operation needed to win in both August and November.

Jarchow has now raised 4x what Eric Toney raised in all of 2021 and nearly 8x what he raised in the second half of 2021. Earlier this week, it was reported that Toney allowed a career criminal out on low bail just weeks before the man went on to kill an Appleton firefighter. The next day, Toney unveiled a policy proposal that was quickly determined to not be legal.

“Grassroots patriots across Wisconsin are rallying around our campaign to back the badge and stop the rise in violent crime, and I’m humbled by the growing support,” said Adam Jarchow. “Voters are tired of politicians who make excuses and point blame. Under a Jarchow Department of Justice, law enforcement will have the tools needed to be effective, and we’ll make our streets safe once again, period.”
