OSHKOSH - U.S. Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI) announced today he is launching a new ad highlighting how the Right to Try legislation he pushed through Congress is saving lives. He first announced the new ad on his wisfacts.com website.

“Right to Try laws allow patients with terminal diagnoses to utilize drugs and medical treatments before they are fully approved by the FDA,” Senator Johnson wrote. “In the land of the free, home of the brave, these laws made perfect sense to me, and I have always been supportive of them.”

The ad features testimony from Kelley Sweet and Mark Akins, whose mom was saved thanks to treatment made available to her under Senator Johnson's Right to Try legislation.
