OSHKOSH – Today, Senator Ron Johnson’s (R-WI) re-election campaign launched the Parents for Ron Johnson Coalition. The coalition unites parents in all corners of Wisconsin to fight for school choice, improve the costs of education, and help stop Mandela Barnes and the Democrats from indoctrinating our children in schools.

*“I’m a parent and I support Ron Johnson because he honors my standing as a parent. He respects that I, and my husband, are the true authority when making decisions on matters of health and education for our children. Senator Johnson recognizes that it is necessary for parents to make decisions without interference from the government. For that, he has my vote on November 8th, 2022.” – Kimberly Smith, Madison

*“As a mom, I support Ron Johnson because he believes in holding schools accountable through School Choice initiatives and wants to ensure that students are not indoctrinated with biased politics in the classroom.” – Aimee McClure, Menasha

*“I’m a proud mom of 6 and I support Ron Johnson. He stands for responsible parenting; parents bearing the responsibility for their child’s well-being and education, not the state.” – Sarah Von Haden, Eau Claire

*“I’m a parent and I support Ron Johnson because he understands that a child’s education should not be restricted by their zip code.” – Scott Grabins, Madison

“All children deserve a good education, and no child should be trapped inside a failing school,” Ron Johnson said. “Without high quality education, individuals will be less able to take full advantage of the opportunities America offers. I appreciate the support from parents in all corners of Wisconsin who share the same concerns about Mandela Barnes and the Democrats’ radical agenda for our children. Together, we will Fight for Education Freedom.”
