OSHKOSH - Today, the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) endorsed Senator Ron Johnson's (R-WI) re-election campaign. The endorsement was announced at an event held at Rolling Threads Unlimited in Waukesha, one of the more than 10,000 Wisconsin NFIB member companies.

"It's a real honor for me to accept the endorsement of the National Federation of Independent Business," said Senator Ron Johnson. "I'm a small business guy, and I think that's one thing lacking in Washington, D.C. There's not enough individuals like myself who have worked shift work, who have grown a business from the ground up and know how tough business is."

"Senator Ron Johnson is a proven advocate of Wisconsin's small businesses," said Bill G. Smith, NFIB Wisconsin State Director. "His leadership was critical to delivering the Section 199A Small Business Deduction passed in 2017, which has been beneficial for Main Street small businesses across the country. Senator Johnson has been a champion for regulatory reform and a pro-small business environment, earning a 94% NFIB voting record for this term. We look forward to continuing to work with him."

"We are proud to endorse Senator Johnson for re-election today," said Sharon Sussin, NFIB Senior National Political Director. "As a long-time small business owner, he understands the challenges facing small businesses and we are confident he will continue to be a strong small business ally in the Senate."
